Gearing Up Youth for Positive Life Choices

Today's world presents formidable challenges to adolescents and teenagers. Social pressures, fragile home environments, drug and alcohol abuse, and mental health issues confront, and often bombard today's families and communities. At Charles Hall Youth Services, resident life coaches and program staff help socially-vulnerable youth, ages 10 to 19, learn new skills, discover and build on their individual strengths, and prepare for more positive futures with strengthened community connections.

Our Youth

Founded in 1965 as a mission of the United Church of Christ, Charles Hall Youth Services is community-based and offers high-risk foster care youth a stable, safe and nurturing environment. Youth enter our program for many reasons, and most are extraordinary survivors of difficult life circumstances. Our ESSENTIAL© Program teaches youth how to:

- use mistakes to learn and grow,
- understand the roles of reason and emotion (self-control),
- fulfill responsibilities, and
- respect the rights of self and others.

Charles Hall Youth Services seeks to meet the needs of youth in a holistic way, working toward healing and strengthening youth emotionally, mentally, physically and spiritually. We respect the strong connection between healthy spirituality and the well-being of today's adolescents and teens. The goal of our multi-disciplinary programming is to help youth develop emotional stability and psychological resiliency, physical health, and genuine self-esteem.

The Charles Hall Experience

Our program provides youth with daily living care, counseling, and case management services in three neighborhood-based group homes in Bismarck, North Dakota. We strive to identify and build on youths' strengths and resilience. We help youth discover hope, earn self-esteem, and learn essential life skills to navigate daily challenges and develop healthy relationships.

Special programming includes:

- Trauma-informed practice
- ESSENTIAL© Program (moral development and ethical decision-making)
- 40 Developmental Assets®
- Circle of Courage®
- Independent life skills and social skills training
- THRIVE health and wellness programming
- Equestrian activities and experiential learning
- MAP Creative Arts (mindfulness, art and personal expression)
- CREATING CONNECTIONS mentor program
- Community-based spiritual life opportunities
- Tribally-appropriate activity options for Native American youth
- Public school and academic support with on-site transition teacher
- After-school tutors
- Collaborations with community partners (Bismarck Parks & Rec, YMCA, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Bismarck-Mandan Symphony Orchestra, and many others)
- Community-based medical care and specialized treatment services

Bruce D. Perry, MD, PhD, receives a special award — “Good Voice for the Sacred Little Ones” — at the 2017 Ho Waste donor recognition luncheon in February. A Bismarck native, Perry is founder of the ChildTrauma Academy, where he serves as Senior Fellow. CTA’s impact is felt across the world — in the U.S., in Canada, throughout Australia, and in countries across Europe and beyond. Perry is known for his lifetime commitment to improving the lives of high risk children through direct service, research, and education. Presenting Perry with the “Wakanyēja Ičín Hō Waště” award are Co-Executive Directors Gayle Klopp and Gayla Sherman. The original artwork by Wayne Pruse is entitled, Nothing Is Ever Just Black and White.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Charles Hall Youth Services is thankful to the many individuals, corporations, and foundations which support our organization and its efforts. As a community-based foster care provider, Charles Hall Youth Services recognizes that it truly takes a village to raise a child . . . using promising and best practices . . . strengths-based, solution-focused methods . . . individualized, child-centered programming that instills renewed hope . . . and, ultimately, an environment that promotes emotional stability, psychological resiliency, and safety.

The constant challenge is to design a daily program so engaging, so varied and new, yet orderly and stable . . . so meshed with the growth of the child's mind, so rich in human interchange . . . filled with success in matters small and large, so unconcerned with failure, so appreciative of individuality and of common purpose . . . so joyous, so aware . . . that the child finds himself/herself immediately committed to a new way of living at once more satisfying . . . and more satisfactory to the people in his/her life.
